

PRESIDENT WILSON INFERS IMPROPRIETY IN HARDING'S REFERENCES TO ATTITUDE OF FRANCE TOWARD LEAGUE OF NATIONS

"I Need Not Point Out to You the Grave and Extraordinary Inferences to Be Drawn From Such a Statement," the President Writes Senator

NOMINEE DEFENDS DECLARATIONS IN REPLY

Declares He Can See No Impropriety in Private Citizens of France or Americans Deeply Friendly to France Expressing Their Understanding of Sentiment in That Country

Washington, Oct. 18.—President Wilson took steps today to ascertain whether the French government had given authority to "a representative of France" to approach Senator Harding informally with the request that the Republican Presidential nominee take the lead in the formation of an association of nations.

At the same time the White House made public the text of a letter addressed to Senator Harding by President Wilson inquiring as to the correctness of a statement attributed to the senator, in a dispatch dated St. Louis, October 16, in which the candidate was quoted as having said he had been so approached.

White House Officials Reticent

"I need not point out to you," the President wrote, "the grave and extraordinary inferences to be drawn from such a statement, namely, that the government of France, which is a member of the League of Nations, approached a private citizen of a nation which is not a member of the league with a request that the United States lead the way to a world fraternity."

Neither officials at the White House nor at the state department would comment on the nature of the inquiry directed to the French government. It was understood, however, that the note was transmitted by the state department to the French government through ambassador Wallace in Paris. At the French embassy, it was stated that no such communication had been received there for transmission.

Secretary Tumulty said that no reply had been received by the White House, either from Senator Harding or the French government, to a late hour.

Harding Answers President

Marion, O., Oct. 18.—Replying to an inquiry from President Wilson, Senator Harding wrote the White House tonight that although France had sent her "spokesman" to him informally asking America to lead the way for an association of nations, the incident had not involved the French government in any violation of international proprieties.

The senator declared that in his reference to the subject in a speech at Green Castle, Ind., recently, he only sought to convey the thought that there had come to him "these who spoke a sentiment which they represented to be very manifest among the French people." He added that his words "could not be construed to say that the French government had sent anybody to me."

Referring to Mr. Wilson's suggestion of impropriety in a foreign nation approaching "a private citizen" on such a subject, Senator Harding pointed out that he is a member of the foreign relations committee, as well as a nominee for the presidency, and stressed that "an informal approach to me is rather more than that to a private citizen."

Quotation "Not Exact"

The text of Senator Harding's letter sent in reply to one from the President asking whether the senator had been correctly quoted in his Green Castle speech is as follows:

"Dear Mr. President: I have before me a press copy of your letter to me of this date, though I am not in receipt of the original copy. I am glad to make a prompt reply.

"It is very gratifying that you hesitate to draw inferences without my assurances that I am correctly quoted. The quotation as reported in your letter is not exact. The notes of the stenographer reporting my remarks quote me as saying 'France has sent her spokesman to me informally asking America in its new realization of the situation to lead the way for an association of nations.'"

"I am sure that my words could not be construed to say that the French government has sent anybody to me. The fact I was trying to convey was that there had come to me those who spoke a sentiment which they represented to be very manifest among the French people, but nothing could suggest the French government having violated the proprieties of international relations. Official France would never seek to go over your high office as our chief executive to appeal to the American people or any portion thereof.

Sees No Impropriety

"I can see no impropriety in private citizens of France or in Americans deeply friendly to France expressing to me their understanding of sentiment in that friendly republic.

"It is not important enough to discuss, perhaps, but I very respectfully urge that in informal expression to me is rather more than that to a private citizen. I hold a place as a member of the foreign relations committee of the United States senate, which is charged with certain constitutional authority in dealing with foreign relations, and I am necessarily conscious that I am the nominee of the Republican party for president of our republic.

"In the combination of these two positions, it ought not to be unreasonably to some very devoted friends of a new and better relationship and organizations, no matter whence they come, should wish to advise me relating to aspirations to co-operate with our own republic in obtaining the high purpose. Let me assure you again of the observance of all the proprieties and again assert that the French government has maintained the great respect for your position to which I myself subscribe.

"With great respect I am,
Very truly yours,
Warren G. Harding."

Denounces Harding's "Slip"

Buffalo, Oct. 18.—Preaching his League of Nations gospel today in Northwestern New York, Governor Cox of Ohio, renewed assaults against Senator Harding, his Republican opponent, for alleged "wiggling and wobbling" upon the league issue.

To six large audiences, at Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo, and in two rear platform addresses enroute, the Democratic Presidential candidate carried his preachment upon the league, declaring that it was "inspired by God" and a "pledge" to American soldiers and mothers.

At the Broadway auditorium and Genesee hall here tonight, Governor Cox declared that Senator Harding had made a "slip" in stating that he had been approached "unofficially" by a French representative regarding a "world fraternity."

"The French government," said Governor Cox, "very promptly and properly denies that there have been any official overtures of any kind. I want to ask Senator Harding whether it is true that the representative of France was Maurice D. Kobra of Paris. If this be true, and I have strong reasons for believing that it is, we have an instance of the kind of counsel he will seek in international affairs."

Governor Cox said that D. Kobra, a correspondent for the Paris Liberte, and who recently travelled with the governor before going to accompany Senator Harding, was an "author and humorist."

"Senator Harding's slip occurred," Governor Cox continued, "in one of his back platform speeches. The restraint imposed by the intellectual guard that has been with him for two weeks was for the moment withdrawn. The statement comes from Marion that no more extensive speaking tours will be made."

The President's letter had not purporting to use the exact words of the Green Castle speech, but had repeated a paraphrase in which "a representative" was used in place of the plural, "her spokesmen." The singular had been used in the transcript of the official stenographer as made public on the senator's train in Indiana. The copy given to newspaper correspondents reading "France has sent her spokesmen to me."

Senator Harding, in making public this letter, said he had not had occasion to revert to the stenographer's notes until the President's letter had raised the point, he then ascertained the said, that the notes and the transcript prepared on the train did not agree, and that although "her spokesmen," the published reports of the speech had been inexact in using the words her spokesmen.

The letter of the President to Senator Harding follows:

"18th October, 1920.

"My dear Sir:

"In the New York Times of yesterday, Sunday, October 17, 1920, I find a statement dated St. Louis, October 16, which purports to report certain public utterances of yours. In it occurs the following:

"Replying to criticisms of his proposal for an association of nations, he said in a rear platform speech at Green Castle, Indiana, that he already had been approached 'informally' by a representative of France who asked that the United States lead the way to a world fraternity."

"I write to ask if this is a correct quotation and if you really said what is there attributed to you. I need not point out to you the grave and extraordinary inferences to be drawn from such a statement, namely, that the government of France, which is a member of the League of Nations, approached a private citizen of a nation which is not a member of the League with a request that the United States lead the way to a world fraternity."

"The department of state has always found the government of France most honorably mindful of its international obligations and punctiliously careful to observe all the proprieties of international intercourse. I hesitate, therefore, to draw the inference to which I have referred unless I am assured by you that you actually made the statement.

"Very truly yours,
Woodrow Wilson."

REORGANIZE SCOPE OF BASEBALL RULE

Owners Agree to Three-Man Civilian Tribunal in Place of National Commission

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Representatives of every National league baseball club and three American league clubs tonight went on record as favoring abrogation of the national agreement between professional leagues. Resolutions proposed a complete reorganization of baseball with the national commission abolished and a civilian tribunal of three men not financially interested in the game in complete control.

The action came after a conference lasting more than nine hours. The resolutions will be considered at another meeting November 8 and presented to the meeting of minor league officials at Kansas City, November 9, for their approval. All professional leagues will be invited to join with the 11 clubs acting today in the proposed re-organization.

A statement issued after the meeting notified the clubs not represented that they have until November 1 to signify their willingness to join in the re-organization. If they have not come in by that time, the statement says, a 12 club league will be formed without them. The 11 clubs represented would be included in the league and the twelfth member would be chosen from some other city.

INSTITUTE SEARCH FOR 'MISSING LINK'

Expedition, Financed by $25,000 Fund, Plans Five-Year Campaign in Remote Regions of Europe

New York, Oct. 18.—Organized search for the well-advertised but undiscovered "missing link"—the remains of near-man that scientists since the day of Darwin have longed to examine—is to be carried on in Asia for a five-year period beginning next February.

An expedition, financed by a $250,000 fund, will penetrate remote regions and even if it fails to uncover remains of man's rude prehistoric forbear, it is planned to bring back to New York the greatest natural history collection the world has ever seen.

The American museum of natural history, which is sponsoring the explorations, announced tonight its associates are the American-Asiatic society and the Asia magazine. These three will finance the expedition, with the help of private contributions by Mrs. Willard Straight, J. P. Morgan, George F. Baker, Charles Frick, W. A. Harriman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Bernheimer.

Huntmen and cowboys, as well as erudite professors and scientists will be included in the big party, for it is planned to trail some of the wildest wild animals in the world in the Gobi desert and bring them back to New York alive.

SMITH OVERLOOKS NATIONAL ISSUES

Judge Miller Charges Governor With Preferring to Appeal on Strictly Local Issues

Ithaca, Oct. 18.—Nathan L. Miller, Republican gubernatorial candidate, in an address here tonight, continued to charge his Democratic opponent, Governor Smith, with preferring to appeal to the voters on strictly local issues.

"The governor may throw his national ticket and the platform of his party overboard if he chooses," said Mr. Miller, "but I propose to stand upon the platform of my party and fight for the election of the standard bearers in the nation."

The Republican candidate declared that the cost of state government under Governor Smith had virtually doubled within two years, but that the governor had established an able.

"He says he can't do anything until you change your form of government," said Judge Miller. "He says he has been bound, gagged and fettered. He started out with a great flourish of trumpets by appointing a reconstruction commission and you thought I thought the commission would solve some of our problems. It turned out instead that its function was to furnish this alibi for the governor's non-performance."

"I think the governor is not a figurehead; I think he has got influence, and authority, and power enough, if he exerts it, to see that the state gets an economical and a business administration and to see that we live within our means. That is the policy which I propose to inaugurate with the assistance and co-operation of a Republican legislature."

PARALLELS GERMAN RAIDS IN BELGIUM

Eamonn D. Valera, "President of Irish Republic," So Likens British "Outrages" in Ireland

Ogdensburg, Oct. 18.—Eamonn de Valera, "president of the Irish republic," today charged that during the last 20 months "British" murder gangs raided Irish homes, and that there "have been close to 40,000 such raids and robberies."

"Addressing delegates of the Self-Determination league of Canada and Newfoundland at a conference here, de Valera said that the government of the British empire, of which Canada is a part, has instigated a campaign in Ireland of organized assassination of the representatives of the Irish people."

He characterized this as a "general campaign of frightfulness of which any civilized government would be ashamed directed against the civilian population and strictly parallel to the campaign which the Germans were alleged to have carried on against the Belgians."

"Men were dragged from their beds and brutally murdered. Women and children were terrorized," he said. "There have been no less than 77 such murders, and these murders do not include men who met their death in armed struggle with British forces."

"More than 100 towns and villages have been destroyed in order to inflict loss upon the people. Transportation has been held up in certain districts with the idea of using the weapon of starvation."

MUST REPORT ALL RECEIPTS

Sums in Excess of $100 Must Be Acknowledged by All Party Organizations

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 18.—Chairmen of the Republican and Democratic national, senatorial and congressional committees will be asked to file, under oath, complete reports of all receipts, exceeding $100 since the last report, and a report of all expenditures, promises and pledges, Chairman Kenyon of the senate subcommittee investigating campaign fund expenditures announced late today.

The announcement was made just prior to adjournment of the investigation. The statements must be filed with the committee on the Thursday preceding the November election. Chairman Kenyon, amplifying this decision, said failure to make the report will result in the immediate issue of subpoenas for the delinquent.

WELFARE COMMISSION MEETS

New York, Oct. 18.—The state commission for examination of present child welfare laws and preparation of new measures, held its first executive session here today. Permanent officers were elected as follows: Chairman, Senator Charles W. Walton of Kingston; vice chairman, Senator Salvatore A. Cocchi, of New York; and secretary, Irving L. G. Goldsmith, of Saratoga Springs.

MACSWINEY'S CONDITION WORSE

London, Oct. 18.—(By the Associated Press).—The condition of Lord MacSwiney in Brixton prison has taken a change for the worse. This announcement was made in the bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination league at 5 o'clock this evening.

ACTIVITIES OF LEAGUE TO ENFORCE PEACE, HEADED BY WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT, VIOLATE LOGAN ACT, SENATE INVESTIGATOR OPINES

Scores of Confidential Letters From Files of League, in Which Names of Several Prominent New York Bankers Are Mentioned, Are Introduced at St. Louis Hearing

FINE AND IMPRISONMENT IS PENALTY

Act Prohibits American Citizens Carrying on Negotiations With Foreign Governments Regarding Disputes or Controversies Without Permission of United States

St. Louis, Oct. 18.—Scores of confidential letters from the files of the League to Enforce Peace, of which William Howard Taft is president, were introduced into the records of the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures here late today. Names of a number of prominent New York bankers were mentioned in the correspondence.

Hon. H. Hunt, attorney for the committee, who investigated the activities of the league, reported that "in my estimation" officials of the league have violated the Logan act, passed January 30, 1790, which prohibits American citizens carrying on negotiations with foreign governments or their agents regarding disputes or controversies without the permission of the United States. The act carries a penalty upon conviction of a fine of not more than $5,000 and imprisonment of from six months to three years.

The senate committee sent Hunt to New York several days ago to investigate the activities of the League to Enforce Peace.

Hunt conducted an inquiry for five days in the league's offices there, read all correspondence in its files and examined employees and officers of the organization.

His report, a voluminous document embracing copies of all letters which he thought had a bearing on campaign expenditures investigation was presented today.

The senate committee met here today to complete its investigation of the pre-convention campaign in Missouri and adjourned to meet again some time after the election. Before adjourning, telegrams were dispatched to the chairmen of the Republican and Democratic national, senatorial and congressional committees, directing them to file complete statements of their receipts, expenditures and pledges at Chicago on Thursday, October 28. The reports will be made public at that time.

Report Proves Sensation

The report of Mr. Hunt's investigation of the League to Enforce Peace proved the sensation of the day. Dozens of confidential letters between Mr. Taft and George W. Wickersham, Theodore Marburg and others, were given.

In his summary Mr. Hunt says that Herbert S. Houston testified before the committee that he had talked with the German chancellor, Lord Robert Cecil and David Lloyd George in regard to the United States entering the League of Nations and that Edward A. Filene, of Boston, who has been abroad on a similar mission is now in Germany on a mission to get Germany into the League.

"The correspondence and data which follow bear out the charge which I am about to make," Mr. Hunt's report says, "that this organization has, through its officials by correspondence and conferences, talked with various officials of foreign governments about getting this and other countries into the League of Nations peace treaty, all of which, in my estimation is in violation of the Logan act."

Mr. Hunt also charged that William E. Short, secretary of the League, took from the files certain letters between Mr. Short and George W. Wickersham, in which Mr. Short proposed a campaign in the interests of Governor Cox, and Mr. Wickersham "agreed in part." Mr. Short refused to give up the letters, the report states, on the ground that they were personal.

Praised Coolidge's Speech

A letter from Mr. Wickersham to Mr. Short dated July 20, 1920, says: "Thank you my dear Mr. Short for Arthur Sweetser's memo. It is very logical and sound. How much better was Governor Coolidge's speech of acceptance than that of Senator Harding's."

Other correspondence shows that ex-President Taft threatened to resign from the presidency of the League if it took a partisan part in politics and reiterated his belief that Senator Harding will be elected and that the one hope of securing the League with the Lodge reservations is through the Republican candidate. The Hunt report says that the League to Enforce Peace spent $2,500 to finance a letter sent by Samuel Gompers to 50,000 local unions asking the union members to bring pressure to bear on senators to have them vote for the League of Nations.

Other items of expenditures include bills for publication of advertisements in 44 cities throughout the country, and two bills, one for $24,500 and the other, $19,500, from the Western Newspaper union.

A letter from Theodore Marburg of Baltimore to Secretary Short, dated August 29, 1920, says:

"The most direct road to ratification (of the treaty) is the complete defeat of the political party which has suffered the conscienceless senate band to ride its neck."

Discuss Holt's Position

Another letter from Mr. Marburg

to Mr. Crane reach the late Theodore N. Vail.

Hitchcock Endorsed Gompers

A confidential letter from Mr. Short to ex-President Taft on July 8, 1919, says that Senator Hitchcock, the Democratic leader in the fight for the League of Nations, was present at a conference with Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, when plans were made to have labor unions bombard senators with pleas for ratification of the treaty and league covenant. The letter says in part:

"You will be interested to know I received a conference I had in Washington last Wednesday with Mr. Gompers, with reference to bringing to bear the full power of organized labor on the senate. Senator Hitchcock was present, and fully concurred in what was agreed upon."

Explaining how letters would be sent by Mr. Gompers to 50,000 local unions suggesting they write to senators urging ratification of the treaty Mr. Short's letter adds:

"These (the letters) are going out immediately and the work will cost about $2,500 which I undertake to pay from funds of the league. I have been urging Oliver Wilson, master of the National grange, to take similar action with the local grangers. A telegram to Mr. Boyd this morning tells me that he has agreed and wants the work to go out from this office. I assume that he will expect us to pay the bills for that also."

"You'll be pleased to know that our income for the month was substantially identical with the outgo so that we are holding our own and have a balance at the end of the month of $37,089.01."

Endorsement Is Sought

In a letter to Mr. Taft under date of December 10, 1919, Mr. Short asks the former president to endorse the work of the foreign press service which he described as an organization of former assistants of George Creel in the bureau of public information during the war, as an additional guarantee of its purpose and character. The letter says, "I can say that Mr. Martin Eagan of J. P. Morgan and company after a thorough inquiry is advising Mr. Thomas Lamont to lend his name and influence to it."

A letter from Elihu Root to Theodore Marburg and the note to which it was a reply are also a part of the report. Mr. Marburg wrote to Mr. Root on January 5, 1920, saying, "I know you feel keenly the damage done our interests and to the interests of our sister nations by our delay to ratify the Versailles treaty."

"The object of this letter is not to rail against the senate nor lament what is passed, but to express the hope which is shared by others that you will do everything in your power to help end this unhappy situation."

To this Mr. Root replied on January 6, 1920:

"I do regret very much the delay in ratifying the Versailles treaty but it is quite plain to me that the treaty never will be ratified unless the President is willing to permit the Democratic senators to vote for the reservations regarding Article X, nor do I think it ought to be ratified without an effective reservation regarding that article."

"The point at which pressure will have to be applied if it is to be effective and bring about a ratification of the treaty is at the White House. Regarding that, I feel quite helpless."

HINTS DEMOCRATS HAD BONDED LIQUOR

San Francisco's Mayor, However, Denies Saying Attorney General Knew of Transaction

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 18.—Mayor Ralph McLean of San Francisco and Sacramento today denied he had ever said "Attorney General Palmer knew about the transaction" whereby 40 barrels of liquor were purported to have been released from bond for use of delegates to the Democratic national convention.

A telegram from Attorney General Palmer at Washington asking that McLean submit proof of this statement had not been received by him, McLean said, but would be answered at once when it came.

"I never said to any person that Palmer had knowledge of release and use of liquor during the Democratic convention. I never met Mr. Palmer and have no means of knowing whether or he was aware of any liquor transaction."

"The matter was one of general knowledge among the delegates and the attorney general was in San Francisco at the time."

VOTE FOR

William I. Smith

Republican Candidate For County Clerk, Otsego County

Fifteen Years Supervisor of New Lisbon — Three Years in Present Office — "One Good Term Deserves Another."

In accordance with a uniform policy of nominating good men for a second term, which for many years has been followed by the Republican party of Otsego, the election ballot bears this year the name of William I. Smith of New Lisbon as candidate for county clerk. His name appears second in the box headed "Vote for One—COUNTY CLERK—14," and not only every Republican but every citizen of the county who appreciates efficiency in the public service and believes that a man who has given such service is entitled to renomination, is urged to place a cross in the square to the left of his name.

Mr. Smith, who is a life-long resident of this county, was for fifteen years supervisor of his township and for one year the chairman of the board. Three years ago, he was elected county clerk, and the same qualities of efficiency which made possible his election as supervisor during so long a period have distinguished him in his present office. In particular, his administration has been uniformly marked by courtesy and by promptness, papers now received for record are returned to the sender twice each week—something which only an excellent system backed by a desire to give the public the best and quickest attention possible, could accomplish.

For the above reasons, the friends of Mr. Smith are urging his re-election, believing as they do that he is experienced, accommodating, painstaking and well qualified, and that "One Good Term Deserves Another."

FUNGI THAT DAMAGE CANVAS

Frequently Within the Space of Three Months the Material Will Be Made Useless.

Major W. Broughton-Alcock of the British army made some studies on the fungi that cause black and brown spots on canvas tents, awnings, etc., and that bring about a more or less rapid destruction of such articles. A note on the subject by J. Ramsbottom appears in Nature. The investigations were carried out partly in Malta, where, it is said, awnings last only about a year. The principal destructive agents in the case of cotton and flax-made canvas were found to be Macrosporium and Stemphylium. The variation in the color of the spots is found to be due to the presence of various other fungi in association with the genera above mentioned. The first signs of fungoid growth appear on the inner side of the roof portions of tents and marquees. Often within three months pressure on the spots made by the fungi leads to perforation, or a strong wind causes tearing. Experiments showed that the Willesden (cuprammonium) method and catch treatment prevented the growth of the fungi.—Scientific American.

POULTRYBEST HOUSES FOR CHICKENS

Several Plans and Arrangements Between Two Extremes Which May Suit Conditions.

In the manner of housing fowls there are two systems widely different in their extremes. At one extreme is the colony plan, which consists in placing small houses for small flocks far enough apart to obviate the necessity of fences, thus giving free range with but little mingling of the different flocks. At the other extreme we have the continuous house. This kind of house consists of a series of separate pens, under one roof, opening directly into a hallway in the rear, or having doors between the pens without the hallway, or opening into a hallway and also into one another. There are several plans and arrangements between these two extremes which may be built to suit varying conditions.

The advantages of the colony plan, according to poultry specialists in the Colony Houses Allow Flocks Free Range.

United States department of agriculture, are, first, small flocks on free range; second, no expense for fencing; third, there is less need for scrupulous attention to cleanliness and providing regular supplies of animal and vegetable feed during summer months. This plan, however, has the following disadvantages: First, extra cost of labor in caring for fowls in stormy weather, when it will often be difficult to get around to feed and care for the fowls regularly; second, houses built on the colony plan, if built as well, cost more than a continuous house of the same capacity, for partitions, which may be constructed largely of wire netting, are much cheaper than two end walls; third, the colony plan allows only about 100 birds to the acre, while the continuous-house system, with suitable yards, allows 450 to 500 birds to the acre.

ROOSTS FOR LITTLE CHICKS

Difficult to Keep Youngsters Clean if They Are Permitted to Roam on Floor.

It is often advisable to teach the chicks to roost when eight to twelve weeks of age. When they are allowed to remain on the floor it is difficult to keep them clean and to keep them from crowding. If wide roosts—three to four inches—are used there is but little, if any, more danger of crooked breasts than if the chicks are allowed to remain on the floor.

The chicks can generally be taught to roost by putting the perches near the floor and placing with them one or two old hens or older chicks that are in the habit of roosting. If this plan is inconvenient or does not prove effective, the chicks may be placed on the perches after dark for a few nights, until they have learned to go there of their own accord, say poultry specialists of the United States department of agriculture.

TEST OUT BROODING SYSTEM

Greatest Loss Is Due to Chilling Received While Being Transferred From Incubator.

Chickens are usually left in the incubator from 24 to 36 hours after hatching, without feeding, before they are removed to the brooder, which should have been in operation for a day or two at the proper temperature for receiving the chickens, say specialists of the United States department of agriculture. A beginner should try his brooding system carefully before he uses it. After placing the chicken in the brooder they can be given feed and water. Subsequent loss in chickens is frequently due to chilling received while taking them from the incubator to the brooder. They should be moved in a covered basket or receptacle in cool or cold weather.

CULL OUT ALL LOAFER HENS

Reason Why So Many Flocks Are Unprofitable Is Because of Presence of Nonlayers.

Lack of proper culling thus far has proved to be, in the majority of cases, the principal reason why a poultry flock is not profitable. Forty per cent of the hens in the average farm flock today are nonproductive and should be sold or eaten. It costs about $2 a year, taking the country over, to feed each hen. If she does not produce more than that amount of eggs she is unprofitable.

DAY'S MARKET DULL AND HEAVY IN MAIN

Foreign Selling and Domestic Offerings Originating in Interior, Were Restraining Influences

New York, Oct. 1.—Foreign selling, precipitated chiefly by the strike of the British miners and domestic offerings originating mainly at interior points, were the restraining influences of today's dull and heavy stock market. The British industrial crisis was directly responsible for another sharp decline in rates of exchange to London. Sterling bills falling to their lowest quotations for the current movement. Exchange on other important foreign capitals was sympathetically affected.

Advices over the weekend from home industrial sections strengthened the impression prevailing in many quarters that independent steel producers are formulating plans for a downward revision of price schedules. Steels, equipments, oils, junior rails, shippings, textile and leather were the vulnerable features of the stock market, the list for the most part recording lowest prices in the final hour.

Easier conditions ruled in the money market. An opening rate of 7 per cent for call loans held until the last few minutes when offerings were made at 6 per cent. Domestic and foreign bonds were firm, local utilities strengthening. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Know It Well

Familiar Features Well Known to Hundreds of Oneonta Citizens.

A familiar burden in many homes. The burden of a "bad back." A lame, a weak or an aching back. Often tells you of kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys. Ask your neighbor.

Here is Oneonta testimony. Mrs. A. A. Johnson, 45 Main street, says: "A short time ago I had a spell of kidney trouble. I had sharp pains in my kidneys and my back ached terribly. When I stooped I could hardly straighten up again and specks appeared before my eyes, blurring my sight. My kidneys acted irregularly, too. After taking one box of Doan's Kidney Pills I felt better."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Johnson had. Foster-McBarn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Translated.

"Tas'm, I'll work for you for $2 a week at I roles, and $4 if I don't," said the undersized negro girl as she discussed prospective employment with a housewife who had only recently moved south and to whom the speech of the negro was still a complete mystery. "Ef she rores," she cogitated. What on earth could that mean? It sounded like the pass word to a secret society or some other equally mystic phrase. She decided to invite the girl to return the next day for a final decision, planning in the meantime to have the puzzling phrase translated. As soon as the girl departed she sought counsel of a southern friend, who laughingly told her that the girl meant she would work for $3 a week if she was allowed to carry home food for her family daily, or $4 without this highly esteemed privilege.—New York Post.

NEWS FROM HARPURSVILLE

Harpurville, N. Y., Sept.

Local people will be much interested to hear that Mrs. J. S. Smith of this village is greatly improved after being ill for some time past with neuritis and kidney trouble. Her recovery is attributed to the use of Goldline, which she bought at Webster's drug store recently. In speaking of her case, Mrs. Forester said: "After taking half a bottle of Goldline, I felt so well that I now sleep fine and the pain in my head are so much better. Before taking Goldline I was constantly troubled with Mrs. P. D. Doulan dizzy spells, shortness of breath and constipation. My hands would go to sleep and feel cold and numb. My muscles would cramp and I had no control over my nerves. Goldline surely has worked wonders. My constipation has improved greatly and my nerves are a hundred percent better. My dizzy spells have left me entirely. Your remedy has certainly worked wonders in every way." Mrs. P. D. Doulan was greatly benefited by Goldline. Goldline is sold in Oneonta by Slade's Drug store.

PLAN BRITISH CHAIN OF WIRELESS STATIONS

Scheme to Link Up Whole Empire Is Put Forward by Special Committee.

A British empire chain of wireless stations, free from private monopoly and possible alien interference, is aimed at by the Imperial Wireless Telegraphy committee, headed by Sir Henry Norman, according to reports from Ottawa.

The report of the committee states that by adoption of a plan which it puts forward, a series of connecting stations can be established and maintained at an initial annual cost of not more than $500,000. This sum, it is said, would secure a system vital in its strategic and commercial potentialities.

The main recommendations are: That a system of imperial wireless be established connecting the communities of the empire by geographical steps of about 2,000 miles each.

That the wireless system employed be that of the generation of radio-telegraphic energy by thermionic valves.

That the service of communication between London and Cairo by Poulson arcs, shortly to be put in operation by the post office, be the first link in the chain of communication with the British communities in South Africa, and that this communication be continued by a valve station at Windhoek to a valve station to complete the connection with the Union of South Africa.

That for communication with India, the far East and Australasia valve stations be erected in England, near Cairo, at Poona (or other Indian station), Singapore, Hongkong and Perth or Port Darwin, in Australia.

That similar communication be established with Canada, subject to the decision of the imperial and Canadian governments.

That the system be governed by a wireless commission of about four members, and that its execution be entrusted to an engineering department of the post office and the corresponding Dominion and Indian authorities.

The committee asserts that an imperial wireless system established in this manner would afford reliable, expeditious and economic communication for commercial, social and press purposes throughout the empire, and that it would meet essential imperial strategic requirements.

The total estimated annual traffic for the whole service would be about 10,000,000 words, producing a revenue of $1,000,000, of which $1,000,000 would be receivable by the imperial government.

Side Whiskers in London.

The London exquisites is doing his best to cultivate side whiskers, a fashion that was somewhat frowned upon a few years ago when Lord Rockingham attempted its resurrection. But that was in the days before the war, and probably it is as a change from the regulation military mustache of the last five or six years that British young men of today are growing tufts of hair in front of their ears with most hideous result.

Squirrel Robs Sleeping Boy.

Altoona, Pa.—Tired after an eventful day at Lakemont Park, George Gillespie, a twelve-year-old Bedford county boy, sat down at the foot of a tree and fell asleep. When he awoke he found a pine squirrel with its nose in a bag of peanuts lying in his lap. It quickly disappeared. Examination revealed that the squirrel had robbed the lad of all but five peanuts.

ELM PARK'S GENEROUS GIFT

Church Receives Desk and Library of Late Rev. Gaylord C. Jacobs.

The trustees and membership of the Elm Park Methodist Episcopal church are under great obligation to the wife of the late Rev. G. C. Jacobs, for the gift to the society of a desk and also the library of her deceased husband. The library contains many volumes of value and interest alike for study and reference, and it will be greatly appreciated. In addition to the desk and library, Mrs. Jacobs, who after living for some time on Lower Chestnut street, now goes to reside with her daughter, Mrs. Philip Maples, on Spruce street, presented a handsomely framed copy of the Lord's prayer to the church.

Plains Church to Hold Picnic.

The Epworth league of the Plains Methodist Episcopal church will hold a social house picnic at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Keith of the Plains on Friday evening of this week. At this time a business meeting will also be held. Each member please bring plate, cup and silver and the usual refreshments.

Word from the Sick.

Mrs. Frank Weatherly of the Plains was taken in the ambulance to the Fox Memorial hospital last Thursday, suffering from typhoid fever. Her physician, Dr. Pomeroy, reports her condition as encouraging.

Peter VanWoert of the Plains, who has been suffering for some time with a complication of diseases, is reported as slowly improving.

Purser Andrus of 310 Chestnut street, who some time ago underwent a serious operation for mastoiditis, is much better and this week resumed his school duties. He still receives daily treatment from his physician. L. C. Millard of 320 Chestnut street, who some time ago fell from an apple tree, receiving serious bruises, is slowly improving and is able to be about the house.

Change of Residence.

Harvey Baker and family of Middlefield moved Friday into O. A. Hubbard's tenement house on Lower Chestnut street, where they are to reside in the future.

McCoey Sells Residence.

Frank McCoey of Jefferson avenue has sold his desirable residence, possession given November 1. Mr. McCoey has purchased a 62-acre farm at Conklin and will reside there in the future. Clifford Trumble of South Side has purchased of A. J. Bookhout his new residence on Jefferson avenue and has already moved in.

Leaves for Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Burns R. Simpkins of Chestnut street, accompanied by James Moore, both D. & H. employees, have left by auto for Tampa, Florida, where they will remain for an indefinite time.

Points About People.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rathbone of Stamford, Conn. have returned after spending their honeymoon with the former's sister, Mrs. Harry Howard, 15 Kearney street.

Henry Jenks of Brooklyn has returned after spending some time with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Jenks, of Burdick avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Champlin and daughter, Millicent, and Misses Laura and Fannie Potter, all of the Plains, spent the week-end with friends in Hobart. Mrs. Champlin and daughter will remain for a longer stay.

Mrs. D. J. Kilkenny and son, of Lower Chestnut street, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold France and daughter, of Moffat street, motored to Cortland, where they spent the week end with Mrs. Kilkenny's daughter, Mrs. L. C. Horton.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Larrabee of 369 Chestnut street and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Burroughs of Hobart have returned after spending some time with relatives in Amsterdam and Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Nichols of 406 Chestnut street spent Sunday and Monday with relatives in Norwich.

Mrs. George B. Barlow of Stamford was a recent guest of Mrs. E. R. Schwaninger, 103 River street.

Morris Truesdale of Johnson City is spending some time with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Truesdale, of 355 Chestnut street.

Wallace Woodworth Jr. and friend, Dane Penoyer, of Schenectady, spent the week-end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Woodworth, 245 Chestnut street.

Mrs. W. L. Callahan and two sons, Lewis and Earl, of East Davenport, spent the week-end with Mrs. W. A. Shafter and Miss Elizabeth Callahan, of 365 Chestnut street.

Jesse A. Millard of Binghamton was a Sunday guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Millard, Chestnut street.

Mrs. Arthur Winsfield of 275 Chestnut street spent Monday in Binghamton.

Sherman B. Lent of Otego spent the week-end at W. A. Shafter's, 365 Chestnut street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wagner of the Plains left Saturday for a trip to the Adirondacks, where they will engage in deer hunting for a short time.

Lightning Rips Off Shoes.

As Mrs. Peter Harkins of Barleigh, Pa., a widow, was in the attic of her home paying down the windows as a thunder storm came up, she was struck by lightning which tore off her shoes and threw her to the floor unharmed beyond shock. Her six-year-old daughter, Theresa, standing in the front door, was also hit and sustained severe burns and cuts about the legs. The house was damaged to the extent of $500 by fire, which neighbors extinguished.

Ohio Woman Deputy Sheriff.

Miss Leona Peacock was appointed deputy sheriff of Clark county, Ohio. The appointment was approved by Judge Geiger of common pleas court. This is believed to be the first appointment of a woman deputy sheriff in the state.

PASTORS' DAUGHTERS BRIDES.

Two Former Well-Known Hobart Young Women Wear Wedding Bells.

Hobart, Oct. 18. — Daughters of two former well-known Hobart clergymen have been or are about to be married, according to word received by friends here. Rev. and Mrs. P. St. John Coleman of Brooklyn have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Melissa Edith, to Frederick Carl Scharnweber, the ceremony to take place on Saturday, October 30, at 8 p. m., in the Wesleyan Methodist church, Brooklyn. The bride's father was until a year ago pastor of the Hobart Methodist church, and Miss Coleman has many friends here who will be interested in the announcement of her betrothal.

Announcements were received here last week of the marriage of Miss Alma Abrams of Piermont to Walter Lake, also of that place, on Saturday, October 9. Miss Abrams is the daughter of the late Rev. Frank Abrams, at one time pastor of the local Methodist church.

Back to Old Time.

The Hobart High school and business places of the town generally, went back to standard time this morning, after a summer on new time schedule. Residents of the village in most instances are glad of the return to standard time, the "daylight saving" plan having few followers in this part of Delaware.

Personals.

Prof. and Mrs. H. E. Allen spent the week-end at Hillsdale. — Ralph E. Rose of Rosess Brook was a business caller in town today. — Harold E. Odell was a business caller in Tarrytown Saturday.

THE DAYS OF MEMORY.

The days of memory—the days of the falling of the leaves—are also days of a different kind. Years to be of memory and most precious memory.
The days of the great drive against the Hottelburg line in northern and eastern France, when the brave sons of the great American republic were fighting the leaves
throughout the forest of the Argonne.
All of us remember with what pride day after day the newspapers were perused which told the story of the stern onslaught of the Expeditionary force, which swept like a resolute tide over the barriers set up by the Hun, bearing with it always the brave banner of a free republic which was paying back in some sort a debt which for a hundred and forty years had been due to France.

Even in those days when each fresh morning thrilled with new stories of gallant adventure and of wonderful accomplishment, there was a chastened sense of rejoicing since it was well known that such victories had not been won save at the cost of thousands of human lives, and that presently the names of those whom we knew and loved, sons of our own city, county, town or village, were to be included in the lengthening lists of those who had made the supreme sacrifice.

Long ago these lists were completed,
and the last name was inscribed in the records of a great republic and —let us at least believe—of a grateful world. The nation will long remember what they did—long as it will remember what was done by an earlier army in the days of the high tide of the Confederacy at Gettysburg, but in these anniversary days, the second since the great bereavement which mingled so much of pride with grief, in thousands of homes, hundreds of thousands live over again the emotions which were theirs two years ago. They recall the pride of Victory, the agony of suspense, the dull
sorrow of the formal announcement,
and the chastening and reassuring knowledge that those lost have not died in vain, but that their eternal monument will be what we still firmly believe, despite minor struggles still going on, is the great peace of the world.

"In loving and loyal memory," many a remembrance begins in the columns of the press of the country, followed by the name of one who in the early summer of life but in the autumn of a memorable year passed with the falling leaf from glory to glory. Is it not altogether fitting, at least in some way to note that all our countrymen are as one in this, that they too have grief, and pride and steadfast remembrance, and that they will continue to have these things so long as hearts
beat, and eyes flash and spirits glow
at the thought of what upon the wide-flung battle line those alike who died
and those who live did in the autumn
of 1918 for the world?

AN IMPORTANT MEETING.

Advisory Council of Farm Bureau Association November 3 at Cooperstown.
The community committee of the Otsego County Farm Bureau will hold their annual meeting as an advisory council on November 3, 1920,
says President Kinne in a circular sent out Monday.

These committees are the local representatives of the farmers of the county. There are from three to five such committees in every community.
Collectively these men constitute what may well be termed the Farmers' legislature.

Every farmer in Otsego county
should get in touch with the community committee of his particular community and bring to their attention any matter of importance which should have consideration at the advisory council meeting announced above.

The responsibility for a successful
Farm Bureau organization lies first of all with the individual member.
Communities secure local service
largely through their committee.
A lively interest in the real work of the Farm Bureau can be secured best through co-operation with the central office. The advisory council meeting is the gateway to this co-operation.

A large attendance of good men who represent the interests of the respective communities at this meeting will secure a high degree of local service and a high degree of local consideration of local problems.

Every community committee is invited to be present in the Otsego County Farm Bureau, Cooperstown, at 11 a. m.
November 3, 1920.

Speaking in Delaware.

Senator Wadsworth, accompanied by speeches yesterday, was accompanied by John H. C. and other Republicans from Delaware county, left for a speaking tour through the county. He spoke at Franklin at 3 o'clock, at Walton, going to Delhi at 5 o'clock and then to Delhi at 7 o'clock.
He will speak at Delhi, Margaretville and
and then go to Kingston for an evening meeting.

COURTS AND THE EXCISE LAW

JUSTICE KELLOGG DELIVERS UN-USUAL CHARGE TO GRAND JURY YESTERDAY.

Manley J. Preston of Worcester Appointed Foreman and Dukes of Jury
Under State Law Fully Explained.
Many Cases to be Investigated—
Trial Term Begins This Morning—
First Case Will be Vandusen vs.
Dayton.

The October term of the supreme court for Otsego county opened at 2
p. m. yesterday at the county court house in Cooperstown. Manley J.
Preston of Worcester was appointed foreman of the grand jury, after which Justice Kellogg, who presides
in the absence of Justice Tuttle, delivered a rather unusual charge calling attention to the importance of their work and to the fact that all over the country there are special sessions being called both in state and national courts to investigate and consider present day crimes. An impression, he said, seems to have gone abroad that the Volstead act entirely supercedes the state excise law. This is not the case except in one or two minor particulars in which acts in violation of the state law are not crimes under the national law, in all other respects violation of the Volstead act are in effect violations of the state laws, and it is the duty of grand juries to indict wherever the evidence warrants them in so doing, though the indictments which they find must be under the state law.

Justice Kellogg called attention to the importance of the office of district attorney, since in the main the indictments found are the result of his prior investigation. For this reason, he stated that the board of supervisors might well consider placing at his disposal a moderate sum for the purpose of tracing out crime. When truckloads of whiskey, mostly apparently adulterated, are brought from Pennsylvania to Oneonta, it arrives generally in the night time, and it is not the usual thing to send word in advance of its coming, apparently on the theory that there might be too
many here to receive it.

The most serious feature of such a crime as this, if committed, is the fact that the liquor falls into the hands in numerous instances of those inclined to commit crime, and who later will walk the streets in an intoxicated condition and afterwards appear in the police courts. It is therefore an important duty of the jury to consider
these violations of the excise law, bearing however in mind that only legal evidence can be received, and they are not to indict unless in their opinion the evidence presented is such as if unexplained or uncontradicted
would warrant a conviction by a trial jury.

At the close of his charge, which showed the purpose of the court to have excise matters fully considered,
the calendar was called and the case of Mabel Vanusen vs. Adin V. Dutton, an action to recover damages, was set down for trial this morning.
It is understood that two other cases
will be tried by the court with a jury,
and that five or six more will be tried at chambers in Oneonta at a later date. While there are a goodly number of cases to be considered by the grand jury, it is believed that the court will complete its work the present week.

WITH E. M. C. A. BOWLERS.

Meeting Called for Thursday Evening
—Will Enter State Tournament.

Some more interest has been manifested in bowling at the E. M. C. A.
allies this season that Secretary Lange has made arrangements to enter a team in the State E. M. C. A.
bowling tournament during the coming winter. The personnel of this team will be decided by the tournament of the local bowlers, scheduled to open November 19, the best men being selected to represent the Oneonta association at the state event.

To talk the bowling outlook over,
Secretary Lange has called a meeting of all "E" members interested in bowling for Thursday evening of this week at 7:15 o'clock for organization.
It is expected that the tournament
this year will go far ahead of any in the past, and all who wish to enter
are urged to be on hand Thursday.
The "E" allies were never in a better condition than at present, and indications are that they will be kept hot during the winter.

At the alleys last night, two "scrub"
teams were got together and Hub-bert's Heavy Hitters took three straight from Emrick's Infants by the following scores:

Hubbert	123	158	47
Adams	145	160	32
Emrick	108	151	18

DELHI CHEERS WADSWORTH

Senator Given Mighty Welcome at Rally in That Village Last Night—
Candidate Discusses Financial Situation and League.

Delhi, Oct. 18. — Greeted with continuous rounds of tumultuous applause, United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., candidate for re-election, denounced the Wilson administration in strong terms for its financial "extravagance" at an enthusiastic Republican rally held in the opera house here tonight. Senator Wadsworth referred to the enormous appropriations used by the Democratic regime during the war and said that a disgracefully large percentage of the money was wasted.

Mr. Wadsworth did not arrive from Walton until about two hours after the rally commenced, but the crowd
did not mind this and gave him a great reception on his arrival. At 7:30 p. m.
a Harding and Coolidge banner was raised across Main street in the presence of a large gathering of citizens, who were then privileged to listen to a well-timed, well-worded and promp-
table speech on the issues of the day,
given by Judge A. J. McNaught of Stamford, who praised the Republican standard bearers and said that it was necessary to the future welfare of the country that they be elected.

Following Judge McNaught's speech,
the gathering adjourned to the opera house, which was aglow with American flags and pictures of the state and national Republican candidates. Owing to the delay in the arrival of Senator Wadsworth, two reels of motion pictures were given to keep the crowd entertained. Mrs. S. F. Penfield of this village then took the floor and introduced Miss Mary Wood of New York city, who made a short and forceful speech in which she told why
the women voters should support the Republican ticket, state and national.

Miss Wood is an interesting speaker
and made a very favorable impression, especially upon women in the audience. Senator Wadsworth and his party reached the hall at about 9:30 o'clock and was given a rousing welcome. Although he had had a busy day, visiting Oneonta and Franklin during the day and Walton in the early evening,
he appeared full of vigor and showed in his speech that he had his heart in the cause of "putting across" the Republican standard bearer. He was introduced by John Davenport Clarke of Delhi, Republican candidate for congress, who himself was given an inspiring ovation by his fellow townsmen. When Mr. Wadsworth stepped forward on the platform, a demonstration lasting several minutes swept the hall, and then the audience settled down and listened with unmistakable interest to what Mr. Wadsworth had to say. The hall was filled to overflowing and it was easily the greatest political rally ever held in Delhi.

Senator Wadsworth confined his address to the financial situation of the country and to the League of Nations, but he had much to say on these two topics and bitterly arraigned the Wilson administration for its conduct of the war and its alleged extravagance.

Skipped Board Bill, Fined $10.

A man giving the name of Joseph Garrow of South Side was brought before Judge Huntington in city court yesterday morning, charged in a warrant with violating Section 925 of the Penal law, or skipping his board bill. Garrow admitted his guilt, but pleaded that the high cost of living was too much for him. The judge then made Garrow sad by fining him $10, which Garrow could not complain of
as "protesting" for it was a pre-war figure. Garrow left a substantial deposit and agreed to pay the remainder within a week.

SHOCKING CASE REVEALED.

Resident of Town of Exeter Prosecuted for Cruelty to Animals.

One of the most flagrant cases of cruelty to animals which has been brought to the attention of the authorities in Otsego county was recently tried before Justice of the Peace
E. J. Monroe of the town of Exeter.
A complaint was made to Mrs. W. T.
Hyde, Otsego county agent for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, that one Hugh Mulligan, a farmer of considerable means, residing near Schuyler Lake in the town of Exeter, had been treating his cattle in a cruel and inhuman manner. Mrs. Hyde made a very careful investigation of the matter and the examination disclosed that Mulligan had been placing wires around the horns of some of his cattle and down their noses and running the wire through the noses of the cattle in such a way as to cause the animals great pain and torture. When Mrs. Hyde discovered the cattle, they were suffering horribly from the pain caused by the wire, and their noses and necks were badly lacerated. It was about the worst case of the kind which Mrs. Hyde has seen since she has been in charge of the activities of the society in Otsego county. Mrs.
Hyde laid the information before Justice Monroe and a warrant was issued for the arrest of Mulligan. He was taken into custody and arraigned before Justice Monroe and entered a plea of guilty. Justice Monroe imposed a fine of $25.00, in addition to the costs, which the defendant paid. This case will undoubtedly have far-reaching effect as many of Mulligan's neighbors were greatly incensed at his action. It will also serve to stimulate interest in the work of the Otsego county society as the prosecution in this case has demonstrated that those who inflict unnecessary torture on dumb animals will be vigorously prosecuted.
The prosecution was represented in this case by Ciermonte G. Tennant esq. of Cooperstown, attorney for the society in Otsego county.

ingly delicious and its flavor deligh-

ABSENTEE VOTERS

There Are 107 Who Will Be From Home Election Day.

Applications received yesterday by the board of election commissioners at Cooperstown show that there are in the county of Otsego 187 persons who, save for the amended election law, would either have lost their votes or have been put to great expense and inconvenience in casting their ballots. All these can now vote as if they were at home, the necessary absentee ballots, which were printed last week, having been forwarded to them. The figures as received from the election commissioners are as follows:

Total number—187, divided into 58 men and 48 women. Of these, 26 were teachers, 15 were students, five were traveling men, three railroad men, one actor, six federal employees, two state employees, four nurses, five stenographers, bookkeepers, four clerks, four chauffeurs, one butler, and the remainder having miscellaneous vocations.

CHARGE INCOMPETENCY

SENATOR WADSWORTH AVERS ORGUE OF SPENDING DEMANDS A CHANGE

Insists League of Nations Would Compel America to Embark in Every European Embroilment — Permanent Peace Must Be Founded on Justice and Right; Not Upon Doctrine of Force.

Senator James W. Wadsworth Jr., who spoke at the Oneonta theatre Monday morning to a half-filled auditorium upon the issues of the campaign, devoted most of his time to the discussion of what he characterized as Democratic inefficiency and lavishness in expenditures and of the League of Nations. Quite possibly his most effective sentences, as viewed by fellow Republicans, who formed in large part his audience, were those in which he pointed out the dangers to the republic should the covenant of the league be adopted as brought to America by President Wilson, who, he declared, insisted upon many of its provisions at Versailles, assuring his associates that America would never be satisfied with the treaty without them and who informed his fellow countrymen upon his return that America must accept them or incur the enmity of all other nations of the world.

Dr. J. C. Smith presided at the rally, and in introducing Senator Wadsworth Dr. Smith made reference to the fact that the constitution of the United States provides that the president shall have power to make treaties with the advice and consent of the senate, although we may easily imagine from recent developments that it has been changed to read "without the advice and consent of the senate." After March next we shall get back to constitutional government, and upon a permanent peace basis, the presiding officer declared. Seated upon the platform with the chairman and the speaker, when the gathering opened, were numerous representatives of the party from city and county, including a number of women, indicating that they are interested in the election of Mr. Wadsworth.

Extended epitome of the excellent address, which summed up the attitude of the Republicans toward the League of Nations most lucidly and to the satisfaction of all Republicans present, cannot be given, but the following are some of the high lights of the speech:

After describing what he called the mess into which affairs at Washington have been plunged, he said:

You will never get any economy in your government at Washington until you put into power the Republican party. The trouble with the Democratic party—and it contains many splendid people—is that it looks upon these great problems in a provincial way. It can't help it, for its greatest strength, its only hope for national victory in a presidential election, lies in that peculiar regrettable condition south of the Mason-Dixon line. That is what makes it a provincial body, and you will never get back to normal, you will never reduce the cost of living to the proper proportion until your government gets back to normal, until it saves your money and stops this orgy of expenditure. Fifteen million dollars a day this government is costing now in spite of the savings made by the Republican congress. The Democrats will not give anything up. You have to pry it away from them, and 33 per cent of all the money collected into the federal treasury is collected within the borders of New York state.

"A heavily taxed people is a discontented people. What causes discontent more than anything else are the heavy taxes which cramp enterprise, which restrict initiative and hinder the progress of the people along the road towards higher and better things and greater prosperity.

"The treasury is empty today and we are running behind at the rate of dozens of millions of dollars a month."

"The nation which has given up the right to choose between peace and war has lost its independence. History is crowded with instances showing how nations survive or perish on the choice of peace or war. The nation that isn't free to make that choice has become nothing more or less than a tool or instrument in the hands of some other power or some group of powers to be used by it or them, to suit their purposes.

"You can compel the people to do things for a little while and they may make a noise as though they were agreeing to do it, but they are not agreeing to do it in their hearts, and you will never get universal peace or anything like it if you attempt to get it by the rule of force."

BANNER NIGHT FOR GRANGE

State Officer and County Promoter Give Addresses at Meeting.

Nearly all of the 200 members of Oneonta grange were out last evening to greet State Lecturer S. L. Strivings of Castile, who made an official visit to the local organization. As this was the first time that a state official had paid Oneonta grange a visit, the event naturally was a notable one.

Local grangers did their best to give Mr. Strivings a hearty welcome.

Mr. Strivings made his address to the grangers, Mr. Strivings devoted much time to the farm problems of the future and said that unless something were done to make the farm more attractive for the rising generation, the country would soon face the problem of overproduction, as at the present time young folks are leaving the farms of the score and going to cities, where they can "make bigger money and have a good time."

Mr. Strivings' address was full of interest to the farmers and was a clear exposition of the difficulties now facing the farmer.

Another guest of the evening was Floyd S. Barlow of Cooperstown, manager of the Otsego County Improvement association, who gave a talk on the association's plan for reforesting the county and urging the grange as an organization to lead its support.

Reforestation is one of the most vital problems affecting the country, Mr. Barlow said, and it is necessary for the grangers to be dealt with before it is too late.

Following the addresses of the evening, a delicious lunch was served by the ladies of the grange and at a late hour the gathering broke up, everybody asserting that it was banner night for Oneonta grange.

A NIGHT IN HONOLULU.

Hawaiian Musicians Featured at the Oneonta Theatre Today.

The music lovers of Oneonta and vicinity will be offered a treat during the engagement of "A Night in Honolulu" at the Oneonta theatre today with a special matinee, when Imperial Native Hawaiians appear in conjunction with the above attraction.

These Hawaiian boys are all well educated and come from some of the best families in Hawaii. James Hopkinki, the leader, is a graduate of the Leland Stanford university in California. His father was an appointee under President McKinley. Charles Kamaka was a tutor to Miss Claudia Spreckles, daughter of the millionaire sugar king of California, teaching her to play the steel guitar.

To the admirers of the sweet and dreamy Hawaiian music, those soothing satisfying melodies, that linger long in your memory and haunt your soul, this will be an excellent opportunity to hear the genuine interpretation by these talented, gifted artists.

As an added attraction, Miss Una Carpenter will introduce her artistic conception of the famous native Hula dance, not the vulgar display generally accepted, but a refined and police respectable dance-creation.

To the lovers of a well acted play, by carefully selected cast, a wealth of beautiful picturesque scenery, sweet singing and dreamy music, "A Night in Honolulu" will make a direct appeal.

Don't experiment. Otsego coffee never disappoints and you will avoid dissatisfaction and waste by always ordering it by name. Reputable grocers carry it. 11

OBSERVANCE OF ARMISTICE DAY

Proposed by Chamber of Commerce—Other Organizations Joining.

Preparations have been started by the Chamber of Commerce for a fitting civic observance of Armistice Day, November 11, and two representatives of each patriotic organization, appointed by its president, will meet at 8 o'clock tonight at the Chamber of Commerce offices to lay plans for the celebration.

Mayor Cooperley has given his hearty co-operation to the movement and will attend this evening's meeting together with two other representatives of the city government, appointed by him, Sheldon H. Close, esq., and Owen C. Becker, esq. The Chamber of Commerce will be represented by Howard W. Fisher and F. A. Herrieff.

The American Legion is likewise co-operating with the Chamber of Commerce in fostering the movement and two representatives of Oneonta post and two appointed by Herbert German, county chairman of the American legion, will be present at the meeting. R. C. Johnson, president of Oneonta post, will name the men who will sit on the joint committee for that organization.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

Overland Car Owned by Howard P. Damaged—No One Hurt.

Yesterday afternoon the Overland car owned and driven by Howard P. Place, in which were two other men, while on its way to the fire, when turning from Chestnut street to Watkins avenue, failed to make the turn and hit first the curb and then a tree on Dr. Parish's property. The left front wheel was broken entirely off and two spokes were broken on the left rear wheel. No one was injured.

As told by the occupants of the car and also by those who witnessed the accident, they were not going at a rapid rate of speed. Mr. Place had pulled the gas lever way off and in reaching for the top of the steering wheel, his coat sleeve caught on the lever and the car increased its speed so it was impossible to make the turn. As stated above the car went over the curb and hit a tree. One of the occupants jumped and landed on the inside of the sidewalk, while the other two remained in the car. Later in the afternoon the car was taken to Brannan's garage for repairs.

U. & D. Locomotive Derailed.

Yesterday morning's outgoing Ulster and Delaware train was delayed more than half an hour, when the engine was derailed, owing to a defective switch. Fortunately, the train had not yet got up speed, and no damage was done, although another engine could be put in place, when it proceeded. The derailed locomotive was restored to the tracks a short time later.

CLARENCE L. SLADE WEDS.

His Bride is Miss Mildred Harlow Thompson of Springfield, Mass.

Last evening, at 7:29 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Thompson, at 29 Brown street, Springfield, Mass., occurred the marriage of their daughter, Mildred Harlow, to Clarence L. Slade of this city. The ceremony being performed by Rev. Edmund R. Lane, Jr., rector of Christ's Episcopal church of Springfield, the ceremony being witnessed by the immediate relatives and a few friends of the contracting parties. The wedding march was Mendelssohn's and it was played by Mrs. Russell T. Horrick, of Springfield, a sister of the bride.

The bride wore her mother's wedding gown of white cashmere, trimmed with rose point lace and pearl beads. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas with shower of sweetheart roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Florence K. Thompson, another sister of the bride, wore a white gown and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The best man was Walter C. Bliss of Oneonta.

The date was the 33rd anniversary of the marriage of the bride's parents. The scheme of the decorations, a counterpart of that of the earlier wedding, was an arch of evergreen, ferns and buttercup berries with a background of autumn leaves. Autumn leaves were artistically used in the decorations of the residence.

After the ceremony and congratulations the party was served with delicious refreshments by the Little Dot club of Springfield, shortly after which Mr. and Mrs. Slade departed by auto for parts unknown to spend their honeymoon. After Dec. 1 they will be at home to their friends at 61 Center street, this city.

The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon D. Slade of this city. Prior to entering the service he was for a time employed upon The Star and he has many friends in the city who will extend congratulations in which the staff of this paper heartily join. He is now a valued employee of the D. & H. in this city. His bride is a graduate of the Technical High school at Springfield, and is highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends. Their good wishes being attested by a pretty array of gifts. Guests were present at the wedding from Oneonta, Cleveland, Ohio, New York city, Watertown, Glastonbury, Mass., and Hartford and Staffordville, Conn.

Funeral of Mrs. Walter Clague.

The funeral of Mrs. Walter Clague, brief mention of whose death was in The Star of Monday, will be held at the Packer Undertaking parlors, at 2 p. m. today, Rev. R. A. Ford of St. James' Protestant Episcopal church will officiate, and interment will be in the Plains cemetery.

Mrs. Clague was born 37 years ago and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tunis Layman of Catskill, both now deceased. She was married about ten years ago and since that time, save for the past three months, had been a resident of Oneonta. She is survived by her husband, and by two sisters, Mrs. Carrie Eller of Oklahoma City, and Mrs. Frances Palmer of Granville, this state. Mrs. Clague was a member of the Episcopal church at Catskill. Many friends in Oneonta will grieve to learn of her death.

ALMOST A SHADOW, AFRAID TO EAT

"My son-in-law was so bad from stomach trouble that he was reduced to almost a shadow, and was afraid to eat anything, as all food caused bloating of gas which pressed against his heart, worrying him very much. Our druggist persuaded him to try Naxo's Wonderful Remedy and in two months he looked fine, can eat anything and works hard every day." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the intestinal toxins from the intestinal tract and allows the inflammation which causes stomach trouble, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will relieve or money refunded. Miller Strong Drug company.

LEAVES FOR ST. PAUL

Oneonta Delegate Will Attend Convention of Home Missionary Society.

The thirty-ninth annual convention of the Women's Home Missionary Society convenes from Oct. 23 to 27, inclusive, at the First Methodist church at St. Paul, Minn. Some of the prominent speakers are Bishop Mitchell and Burns and Dr. D. D. Forsythe.

Mrs. Burton Todd of Cedar street, the Wyoming conference delegate, left Friday for Loughamton, where she was joined by Mrs. E. A. Martin, secretary of the Young People's society, and Mrs. Fred Maple, conference corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Harry Perkins, conference treasurer.

The party left Loughamton Saturday and will stop at Cleveland and Chicago. The Oneonta Home Missionary society has a great treat in store for them at the next meeting in November, as Mrs. Todd will undoubtedly give a very interesting report.

Delegates to Diocesan Convention.

There will be a special meeting of the Women's auxiliary at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the rectory of St. James' church for the purpose of electing delegates to the semi-annual diocesan convention, to be held October 25 and 27 at Fallston, Sp.

THE REAMERE OF FLORIDA.

W. S. Polley and C. W. Peck Open Winter Hotel in St. Petersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Polley and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Peck of this city leave tomorrow in their new auto for St. Petersburg, Florida, where they will remain for the winter and will conduct a hotel for northern tourists, which was purchased by them last fall. The hotel, which will be known as the Reamere, a name familiar in Stamford and scarcely less so in Oneonta, has accommodations for about fifty guests. It is well located, was built only three years ago and is handsomely furnished throughout. It is the purpose of the management to make a winter home for northern tourists in the sunny south, and the success of Mr. Peck with the Reamere at Stamford amply justifies confidence in the undertaking.

The cuisine of the hotel will be in charge of Mrs. James Danford, the well-known Oneonta caterer, and she will have an Oneonta assistant, while practically all the other help in the hotel will be from the north. Mr. and Mrs. Peck and Mr. and Mrs. Polley will make the trip in the Delaware Water Gap, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. They will be about two weeks on the way and will open the Reamere at St. Petersburg three weeks from tomorrow. There is no doubt that not a few from Oneonta will be guests the coming winter of the Reamere of St. Petersburg.

The sole reason for most desserts is their delicious flavor. Which is the best reason for using Bakers Certified flavoring extracts.

General Weygand

General Weygand, who was assistant to Marshal Foch in the World War has taken over the command of all Polish troops and already his work is being felt in the setback given to the Red armies. The General took up the offer on condition that he be allowed to run the campaign in his own way.

CONSUL WANTS TO HIRE JAIL

American Representative in Constantinople Needs Place in Which to Put Yankees.

Constantinople.—Permission to hire a jail in which to imprison six Americans has been requested of the state department in Washington by Consul Charles E. Allen. In connection with the trial of 40 thieves accused of stealing from the American Commission for Relief in the Near East supplies estimated to be worth $20,000.

Six former American army men are now being provided by the Turkish chief of police with lodgings, where he is detaining them with their Greek and Armenian alleged conspirators in these thefts. But the chief has expressed unwillingness to hold them indefinitely. The basement of the American embassy formerly was used as a jail at odd times, but the space is now being utilized as an office for George Wythe, the American trade commissioner.

Consul Allen has a fund of $1,000, but, due to high rents, this would pay only for two months' rent for a jail outside the embassy.

Among the excuses given by the six Americans was that the high cost of living drove them to the thefts. They also declared the supplies often were stolen before reaching the charity for which they were intended, so that they felt they had a moral right to them as Americans.

Japan's Man-Faced Crab.

One of the most singular looking creatures that ever walked the earth or "swam the waters under the earth" is the man-faced crab of Japan. Its body is scarcely an inch in length, yet the head is filled with a face which is the counterpart of a Chinese countenance, with eyes, nose and mouth all clearly defined.

Lloyd's Is World Famous.

Lloyd's is probably one of the most famous British institutions and is known throughout the world. It is associated in the minds of most people with the insurance of ships and cargoes and with occasional freak policies, which are in the form almost of bets or wagers.

Fox's Intelligence.

When the fox resorts to certain tricks to outwit and delay the hound (if he ever conscientiously does so), says John Burroughs, he exercises a kind of intelligence—the lower form which we call cunning, and he is prompted to this by an instinct of self-preservation.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and quick, but it has no equal for a cough remedy. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of flax from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Flax, when it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how well it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs, loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membrane, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and coughed comes to appear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic cough, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Flax is a sweet and highly concentrated compound of resin. Not a ray of pine extract known the world over for its healing effect on membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking for your druggist for "2½ ounces of Flax" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Flax Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

KINDERGARTEN TO BE EXTENDED

Extensive Campaign Planned by National Association.

SEEK TO ENLIST PARENTS

Aims to Establish a Kindergarten in Every Community in the Country—Number of Children Between 4 and 6 Without This Training Is Estimated at 4,000,000—Would Make Children Assets Instead of Liabilities.

In the strong conviction that the lack of universal kindergarten work in the present system of education works a gross injustice to many children, the National Kindergarten association is endeavoring to have the kindergarten made a part of the regular public school system in every community throughout the country.

The association estimates that nearly 4,000,000 children between the ages of 4 and 6, who should be enjoying the benefits of kindergarten experience, are not now getting that training.

Sponsors of Movement.

P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, is among the sponsors of the movement. He is honorary president of the association. The other officers are Major Bradley Martin, president; Mrs. Henry Phipps, first vice president; Mrs. Charles Cary Rumsey, second vice president; Mrs. Roger C. Aldrich, secretary; Miss Bessie Locke, corresponding secretary and Julian M. Gerard, treasurer.

"If all homes were ideal," said Commissioner Claxton recently, "still the broader social life for which Froebel pleaded for the children would need to be supplied by the kindergarten. But, alas, they are not all ideal. In many, grinding poverty and traditional ignorance have done their work all too perfectly. In many there is want of intelligent mother-love. Harshness takes the place of gentleness, filth and negligence of cleanliness and loving care, profanity and vice of the pure speech and simple virtues that should greet the ear and appeal to the heart of every child. For many children the home is on the street. In many homes of wealth and refinement the ignorant nurse is the child's most constant companion.

Our Rightful Heritage. "When we have done our full duty by providing for our children kindergartens and schools of all grades and kinds, when the forgotten child is remembered, and the lost waif has been housed and redeemed, then shall we enter fully into our rightful heritage, and wealth and honor and power shall be ours beyond what we can now comprehend."

"The effectiveness of kindergarten training," said an officer of the association, "is no longer questioned by well-informed persons. Commissioner Claxton sent a questionnaire to all school superintendents of cities having kindergartens in their schools, and their words of praise for this form of training were practically unanimous, some saying they would as soon think of closing their high schools as their kindergartens."

"The child is still father to the man, you know, and if we are to have loyal, intelligent, industrious men, we must train the little child in right habits of thought and action. The cost to the country of its criminal classes is estimated at $4,500 a day. Why not save this expense in the future by providing for the little children of today the training in integrity, industry and citizenship which make them assets instead of liabilities?"

While reformatories and societies of various kinds labor with the thousands of children committed to their care, the association points out that the city streets are swarming with their little brothers and sisters, many of whom are following in their footsteps toward lives of crime and misery.

MACHINE THAT PULLS FLAX

Device Is Demonstrated That Will Revolutionize the Linen Industry.

An invention which promises to revolutionize the linen industry as the cotton gin did the preparation of cotton for manufacture was demonstrated in a flax field at North Hoosick, N. Y., before a group of New York manufacturers and scientists, Canadian growers and government experts.

The invention is a flax-pulling machine with a quick rotating process by which in less than three hours a five-acre field was cleared, work which formerly required nearly 50 persons three days to perform.

The flax was pulled up by the roots and by the process the fibers were freed from bark and impurities. The machine delivered the fiber tied in bundles.

Girl of Twelve Enters College.

For the first time since the opening of Hunter college, New York, in 1848 a twelve-year-old child, considered by the faculty of the institution as possessing an "adult intellect," will be admitted. The child, Helen Koch of 17 Bronx, who was graduated from school at the head of a class of 110 pupils, will begin her higher studies here in fall. School officials who have taught her and observed her in the elementary school declare the child possesses a "great intellect."

Receive What We Give.

When some one tells you, "Give is the world-renting power," don't you ever stop to consider that your answer is invariably in accordance with the way you've been treating the world? You cannot go around with a grudge on and expect the world or the people in it to be any less grudgeful to you. We get "what's coming to us"—every time.

Grasshoppers Devour Clothing of Swimmer

Salina, Kan.—It cost Clarence Mooney of this place just $60 to take a swim in the Smoky Hill river—and it was paid in advance.

Upon emerging from the water Mooney found instead of an expensive suit a bunch of rags, a silk shirt in shreds and a necktie in two strains.

The ground around the clothing was literally covered with grasshoppers, which had enjoyed a banquet at Mooney's expense.

Right Up to Bedside If Necessary.

Knorrville, Tenn.—Telephones from the pulpit to pews for the deaf have proved so successful that the Broadway Baptist church is planning to have the pulpit connected by telephone with the homes of those unable to attend church so that nobody need miss the sermon.

Sixteen Years for Less Majesty.

Valencia.—Sixteen years in prison was the sentence imposed on Professor Unamuna, who was convicted of lese majesty, it being charged he wrote three articles criticizing the Spanish monarchy.

ROUTED HIS WIFE'S AFFINITY

Husband Sets Pace Too Rapid for Rival, and the Woman Returns to Man She Left.

Hamilton, Ohio.—Frank Pappakoff, has found a new way to solve the domestic triangle problem and dispose of affluities. While the Pappakoffs were living at Hamilton, Susie, Frank's wife, developed a fondness for Joseph Feindz. One night, when Frank returned home from work, he found a note from Susie saying that she had gone away with Joe.

Frank set out on the long trail for his wife. After combing four states, he finally located the pair in Waukegan, Ill. Frank did not plan to dispose of Joe by putting poison in his food or using a revolver on him. Instead, he started to pay court to Susie again.

He sent her flowers and candy and took her to shows. Susie's affinity, of course, objected, as Frank began to set a pace that was too hot for him. Susie went fording with her husband and half the time of her life.

Finally, Joe became ugly and Frank had him locked up. In the Waukegan police court, Frank forgave Joe and Susie renounced her affinity. They refused to prosecute and Joe walked out of court, promising never again to break up a happy home. The Pappakoffs then went to housekeeping again.

France Plans World Wireless System.

A dispatch from Paris says that Under Secretary of State for the Post, Telegraph and Telephone Services Deschamps has announced that the French government plans for an elaborate wireless system whose center will be in Paris and which will cover Europe, Asia, Africa and South America. If this system, part of which is already in existence, is integrally applied as now proposed, France's wireless communications throughout the world will be able to rival Great Britain's cable communications.

Resinol does stop itching

When you are suffering from eczema, or some similar skin trouble, you need Resinol Ointment. It almost always stops itching and burning at once, and quickly clears away the eruption and irritation. Resinol is no longer an experiment—hundreds of people have been using it for years, and doctors prescribe it regularly. Resinol Soap is excellent for the complexion and bath.

CATTLE FEEDING A GAMBLE

Survey in Nebraska Shows Big Chance for Losses Says Agricultural Department.

Washington.—Cattle feeding in Nebraska during the last two years was a precarious venture, more likely to be unprofitable than not, the department of agriculture announced in reporting the results of its first cost-of-production investigation in the business of cattle feeding.

Similar investigations are being made in Iowa, Missouri, Illinois and Indiana.

The average cost of corn-fed cattle in Nebraska laid down at the market was $11.91 a hundredweight for 2,293 head fed in the winter of 1918-19 and $13.53 for 3,041 head during the winter of 1919-20.

Population of Yugo-Slavia.

PUBLIC HEALTH EXPERT

Lydia Allen De Vilbiss, M. D., of the United States public health service, now detailed as director of child hygiene, Georgia state board of health. Doctor De Vilbiss made her reputation as director of the division of child hygiene, Kansas state board of health, when she made the state record for the lowest stage infant mortality rate. She is the author of numerous monographs on the care of children, and is staff writer on several national magazines. She is particularly interested in getting women doctors into the public health service. Part of her new duty is to locate women physicians and assist them to public health positions in the care of health of children.

Oxford University.

There are legendary stories of the university's formation by King Alfred. As early as 1117 there are notices of continental scholars lecturing at Oxford, and it was certainly a center of learning in 1153. Cambridge is probably almost as old, although its origin is also obscure.

TURN OUT 13,000 SHIP OFFICERS

Merchant Vessels Gain Many Benefits From Newly Established United States Schools.

PLAN TO EXTEND SYSTEM

Shipping Board Suggests That Shore Stations Be Established Where Men From All Parts of Country May Be Taught.

Washington.—More than 13,000 merchant marine officers have been graduated from the shipping board's training schools since their establishment three years ago, and 72 per cent of the graduates have been licensed for service at sea, records of the board's recruiting service show.

Officers for the government-owned merchant marine are trained at Camp Stuart, Va., San Francisco, and Seattle. Four wooden ships operate on the Atlantic coast as combination training ships and cargo carriers. Each has a capacity of 200 apprentices and 1,200 tons of cargo.

On the Pacific coast one wooden ship carrying 1,800 tons of cargo and 115 apprentices and a new 1,800-ton steel vessel with space for 148 apprentices operate on the triangular run between Seattle, the Hawaiian Islands and San Francisco.

Plan Extended System.

Extension and development of its system of training Americans to command the craft of the merchant marine is planned by the shipping board. It is suggested that shore stations be maintained where men from all sections of the country can be assembled and given instruction in seamanship, boat drill and other preliminary work. The men would then be sent to sea in modern steel freight ships, which would be utilized as combination cargo carriers and training vessels, carrying about 125 apprentices. It is planned to place these ships in a trade which would insure a voyage out and return in about 60 days, four vessels on the Atlantic and two on the Pacific.

Concurrently with the sea training the recruiting service plans the establishment at colleges and universities near the principal American ports of a maritime commerce course which would include accounting, business correspondence, business principles, economics, elements of statistics, markets, transportation, principles of foreign trade, exports and imports, languages, railroad and maritime rates, business administration, business law, admiralty law, advertising, ship operation and other basic subjects.

Paid While Studying.

The year would be divided into four three-month periods, the first one or two quarters to be spent in college work, and the subsequent quarters in practice under competent supervision in the offices of steamship companies and on board ships. The men would be paid for their services while employed in offices and on vessels and thus would be able to obtain their education without financial cost to them. It would be sought to so arrange the course as to extend over a period of four years with a degree upon completion. Shipping board officials believe this would build up and leave many other well-trained men in all branches of maritime commerce.

Medical Triumph.

The successful operations on the brain of epilepsy patients performed by Dr. Walter E. Dandy of Johns Hopkins university, and by Dr. Curtis Burnham have now been verified by a number of other surgeons. When a definite set of muscles are affected in the epilepsy spasms, seizures, attacks, fits, convulsions or loss of consciousness, as it may be called, the disease can often be traced to some fluid matter, scar or cyst which covers the surface of the brain whose nerve fibers lead to the tongue or fingers. In other words the first case on record of an epidemic who lost consciousness during the attack was triumphantly brought to pass by Doctor Dandy.

Talked Like a Tabor.

The members of the choir were practicing the anthem "As the Hart Pants After the Water Brooks." The rendering of the open stages was awarded for excellence to the satisfaction of the gentleman who wielded the baton.

He considered it necessary, therefore, to tender some advice to the tenors, and caused great consternation and not a little embarrassment among his flock by the following announcement:

"Gentlemen, your expression is simply splendid, but the time is very poor—really, your pants are far too long."
—From Ideas, London.

Dried Flies for Fish.

A New York firm recently imported three tons of dried flies from South America. They were for feeding young fishes, and have found a ready sale to fish culturists.

The United States fisheries bureau bought 100 pounds of them, for an experiment, but results seemed to show that fire-chopped liver was better grub for baby trout. On a diet of liver they grew fatter, and a larger percentage of them survived.

Highest Mountain in Idaho.

Hyndman peak is the only named mountain in Idaho that rises above 12,000 feet. It stands near the Boise-Custer county line and has a height of 12,073 feet. There are, however, several unnamed peaks near Hyndman peak whose elevations are greater than 12,000 feet, as shown by the contours on the Halley topographic map published by the United States geological survey.

KILLS GIRL WHO MOCKED HIM

Soldier of Distinguished Record in the World War, Ends Child's Life and His Own.

Scranton, Pa.—It was recess at the school at Old Forge, Little Anna Patrutka, aged 14, hair streaming, chased a playmate in an effort to "tag." Michael Jarosowicz, 24, swung his leg slowly over the fence, seized Anna by the wrist as she fled by. And as she pulled he drew a heavy .45-caliber army revolver and shot her dead.

She had hardly touched the ground. The screams of the recessing children had not yet pealed. He poked the muzzle into his ribs, fired and fell dead beside her.

The story that lies behind the tragedy is old. Though Jarosowicz was a war hero, a man who had earned the decorations of two nations for his bravery, he lacked the "open sesame" to the heart of the young Patrutka girl. She mocked him and spurned him until he lost control of himself.

Release for Women who Suffer

The multitude of American women who suffer terribly day after day and year after year from ills peculiar to their sex is almost beyond belief, yet there is hardly a town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman, and often many, do not reside who have been restored to health from some of the worst forms of female ills, and often avoided operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

These Two Women Tell of Their Experience.

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at all without resting. If I swept the floor or did any kind of work it would bring my sickness on. I was weak and languid, had no energy, and life was a misery to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies. I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and at present am an attendant at a State Hospital and am feeling fine. I shall always recommend your Vegetable Compound."—JAZZIE THARP, 624 South 6th Street, Carrollton, Ky.

Onalaska, Wis.—"Every month I had such pains in my back and lower part of stomach I could not lie in bed. I suffered so it seemed as though I would die, and I was not regular either. I suffered for a year and was unfit to do my housework, could only wash dishes once in a while. I read an advertisement of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women and decided to try it. It surely did wonders for me. I have no pains now and can do my own housework without any trouble at all. I will always praise your medicine as I do not believe there is a doctor that can do as much good for female weakness as can Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. LESTER E. WARNER, R. 1, Box 69, Onalaska, Wis.

RICH SOLDIER OF FORTUNE

Dispatches from the war front in Poland commended the gallantry of Charles Sweeney, millionaire soldier of fortune. Sweeney has been commissioned a brigadier general for gallantry against the Russians. He is an American and has served three years in West Point. More than a millionaire in his own right, his father having amassed great wealth in the famous Coeur d'Alene mines, Sweeney preferred the adventurous life to one of ease. Leaving West Point, he sought the active life of a soldier in Mexico, South and Central America and Europe. He has struck blows in desperate causes. During the World war he served as lieutenant colonel in the A. E. F., attached to the general staff. Recovering from wounds suffered in the Argonne offensive he assembled 300 American army officers, and in September, 1919, sailed for Poland.

NEW ORCHID IS PRODUCED

English Grower Proud of Unique Bloom, and Values It at $2,000.

London.—An English grower named Armstrong is proudly enjoying the credit of having produced a new form of orchid which he declared to be the only bloom of its kind in the world. It is of the cypripedium species and is apparently a hybrid offspring of other varieties of orchid grown in the same conservatory, the process having been abetted by the grower's skill. He believes he can reproduce and perpetuate the new variety endlessly.

Mr. Armstrong rears flowers for the pleasure of it rather than commercially. He is one of the many English lovers of rare growths in plants, whose fancy has turned to orchids and whose experiments with them have proved a valuable pastime. Since glass houses became cheap and modern methods of heating suitable for orchid cultivation, the flower has been grown in many private houses and the display in the chief floral exhibitions in London and the provinces has become largely of non-professional origin.

Mr. Armstrong has named this new specimen the "Florence Spencer." He values it at $2,000. Smaller hybrid blooms, which he has grown, have an estimated collective value of $3,000.

ITALIANS FIGHT LONG DUEL

Seek Each Other's Blood for Half a Day, Then Decide to Kiss and Make Up.

Rome.—The world's longest duel has just been fought here between Signor Giovanni Favino and Signor Domenico Durante, who quarreled in a fashionable restaurant. This duel began at 6:30 in the morning and raged furiously under a blazing sun until noon with neither swordsman able to break his foe's defense. At noon they quit because they were hungry and thirsty, kissed each other and then, arm in arm, adjourned to a neighboring cafe.

Real Boost in Population.

Murray, Ky.—Bunk Jones paced the floor, as prospective fathers are wont. "Triplets," was the announcement. Bunk Jones continued to pace the floor, as prospective grandfathers are wont. An hour passed. "Twins," Bunk Jones still walked the floor. In another hour "a grandchild" was announced. Within the three hours triplets had been born to Bunk's wife, twins to Mrs. W. J. Jones, his daughter-in-law, and a daughter to Mrs. Leah Parks, his daughter.

BOY PRODIGY TO ENTER HARVARD

Thirteen-Year-Old Lad Is Proficient in French, Spanish and Greek.

IS "BABE RUTH" OF HIS TEAM

Parents as Proud of His Ability as a Baseball Player as of His Scholarly Attainments—Knows How to Concentrate.

Wapwallopen, Pa.—Frederick Santee, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Santee, who, at the age of thirteen, will leave town in a few days to enter Harvard university, is the Babe Ruth of his baseball team. And his parents are just as proud of that, if not prouder, than the fact that their son will be among the youngest regular students ever to enter Harvard.

"I'd rather play ball than eat," is Frederick's way of expressing it, showing that he reads the sporting pages as well as his textbooks in French, Spanish and analytical geometry.

Frederick is an only son. His parents are of English descent. His father is a physician, as was his grandfather. His mother was a teacher.

The parents' idea is that their son is not precocious, but much like other boys, except he knows how to concentrate and is willing to work. For instance, Frederick will play a hard game of baseball and get so tired that one would think he was about to drop. But instead of resting he will get out a French book and read, recuperating in that fashion. He likes good lectures and he can sit through an entire lecture without getting fidgety, his mother says.

"When Fred was two years old he began to spell words almost as soon as he could walk," his mother said. "We encouraged him and taught him as much as we could for a child of that age. He began to spell entire sentences in a few weeks. Before he was three years old he had learned the multiplication table."

Graduated When Thirteen Years Old. "At the age of eleven he entered the Wilkes-Barre high school. He finished two years in one and then he moved to Philadelphia. He was graduated from the Central high school last summer when he was thirteen."

"Fred took second honors in French. Among those who came up for the entrance examination to Harvard he was the only one who wore short trousers. He was usually finished before the others and he got a good grade."

"Latin and German he began studying when he was nine years old. Since then he has learned to read French, Spanish and Greek fluently. He prefers reading French or Spanish to Finnish and he has a good French library. In the last four years he has had four years of Latin, three years of French and nearly the same amount of Spanish and German. He has never studied much Greek, but he reads it well."

"Fred expects to follow in his father's footsteps, studying the Latin-Scientific course at Harvard and upon his graduation taking up medicine."

Call Him Second Babe Ruth. That the boy's prowess is not limited to books is testified to by the other youngsters of Wapwallopen. He holds the same position relatively on the boys' team as Babe Ruth does on the Yankees. He can pitch a little, too, and on the bases he's a whirlwind. Baseball is the only sport he has taken up.

Between cries of "Atta boy!" and "Give him another!" the boy verified his mother's statement that he expected to be a doctor.

The boy is about the usual height for his age, and his lithe, well-built and muscled body shows no sign of any wearing out on account of study. Frederick does considerable work in the house, his mother says, and is never content unless he is doing something—a trait natural for a boy of thirteen.

"He has been so busy playing ball this summer," his mother said, "that he has not had much time for work. Of course, he reads French or Spanish at night or gets out his chemical outfit and does some experiment that his father puzzled over in college."

THREE RAINBOWS IN ROW

Arched Over Honolulu on Anniversary of American Possession.

Three rainbows in a row, linked together at their bases, appeared over Honolulu to welcome the dawn of the twenty-second anniversary of the lowering of the Hawaiian flag and the raising of the Stars and Stripes over the king's palace, now the capitol. Hawa is a country of rainbows, believed by the natives of olden days to be omens of good, and scarcely 24 hours pass without one or more of the celestial arches appearing above Honolulu. The trio of bows, however, was extraordinary, if not unique.

Mules Ate Airplane While Owner Watched Ball Game

Mules ate Charles Zybelle's airplane while he watched a baseball game at Coon Rapids, Neb., and Zybelle had to walk home. Repairs to the machine will cost $7,000. Zybelle bought a new airplane and flew to the ball game, parking his machine in a pasture. When he returned he found that a number of mules had completely wrecked the machine. They had eaten the wings and pibbled and cracked the wooden frames.

Lost $100,000 Trying to Get Job Which Paid $3,000

The Democratic nomination for county attorney of Muskegon county, Mich., indirectly cost E. E. Gumm, a former settler, $100,000, and he isn't in office yet. In the heat of the campaign Mr. Gumm forgot all about revealing his oil leases on 1,600 acres of promising land in Oklahoma, near the Kansas line. The day after his lease expired a 40-barrel well was brought in on an adjoining acreage. Now the leases which Mr. Gumm overlooked are worth dollars instead of cents, and he estimates his loss at $100,000. The county attorney's office pays a salary of $3,000 a year.

DOG SAVES A WOMAN'S LIFE

Holds Her Head Above Water, Into Which She Had Been Knocked by Man.

Memphis.—A young married woman, in a hospital here, painfully, if not seriously injured, owes her life to a brown cur dog which, after she had been attacked by an unidentified white man and knocked into a pool of water in semiconsciousness, went to her assistance and held her head above the surface until help arrived.

The woman who resides beyond the outskirts of the city, was alone when the man accosted her. Fearing harm, she fled, but was overtaken near an excavation filled with water to a depth of nearly two feet. Her assailant struck her on the head and she fell into the pool. The dog, which had followed, jumped in after her and with her clothing clamped between its jaws, stood by until the crew of a passing freight train discovered her plight.

She told the police she must have been in the water at least half an hour before her rescue.

HELPING BLIND IN TURKEY

American Committee for Relief in Establishing an Eye Hospital in Constantinople.

Constantinople.—Blindness is no less prevalent in the Levant than it was in biblical days.

Trachoma is responsible for most of the sightless men, women and children, who wander through the streets of Cairo, Jerusalem, Damascus, Syria and Constantinople.

Throughout Armenia, Anatolia and Syria trachoma has been the malady which has given the American committee for relief in the near East more trouble than all others combined.

It is especially bad among the children. It rages in the orphanages, where little Armenians, Greeks, Jews and Turks have been gathered by philanthropic organizations which are endeavoring to nurse war-torn Turkey back to normal health.

In all efforts to check the ravages of trachoma and save well children from infection the American committee for relief in the near East is establishing an eye hospital in Constantinople, where all the trachomatous children from the various orphanages in the city will be isolated and given the best possible treatment for the disease.

The Turkish government has placed a large hospital with many cottages at the disposal of the Americans, rent free, and it will be staffed chiefly by Americans under the direction of Dr. Blanche Norton, an American relief doctor who has just recovered from trachoma which she contracted while treating Greek orphans in Anatolia.
